Join us in Pattaya

The AFCKDI started in Hamamatsu, Japan in 2007 by delegates from 16 countries in the Asia-Pacific region, which was followed by the 2nd meeting in Kuala Lumpur in 2008 and in Kaohsiung in 2009. This forum does not simulate any of the other existing scientific meetings but serves as a consensus meeting for Chronic Kidney Disease (CKD) initiative in the Asia-Pacific. The mission of this forum is to promote collaboration and coordination of CKD initiative in our area. The 7th meeting will update the scientific knowledge and practical experience on CKD. Pattaya is a perfect city to host the meeting providing a lively and festive location for congress event.
