We are pleased to announce ISN's World Congress of Nephrology 2017 (WCN 2017), hosted by Sociedad Latinoamericana de Nefrología e Hipertensión (SLANH), will take place in Mexico City, Mexico on April 21-25, 2017.

Since ISN's first congress in 1960, the ISN biennial World Congress of Nephrology (WCN) has provided vital guidance and support to advancing nephrology around the world. WCN, the International Society of Nephrology's (ISN) flagship scientific and educational congress, is the leading educational event in international nephrology attracting attendance from the worldwide nephrology community, including physicians, academicians, and clinical researchers, as well as other healthcare professionals involved in multidisciplinary nephrology care.
